Formatting Requirements for Materials Submitted to the Religion and Society Journal

Article length: between 12000 and 30000 symbols (with spaces) (one page fits approximately 2500 symbols).

Requirements to adhere by when typing the text:

1) switch off “hyphenation”;
2) indentation of the first line of each paragraph should be done not by using the “space” key, but instead automatically via the Microsoft Word menu (Format - Paragraph - first line: indent 0.5 cm)
3) margins: upper, lower, right, left: 2cm;
4) font: Times New Roman, size 14, line spacing: 1.5;
5) tables must be done using Times New Roman, size 12, with a single line spacing;
6) pictures and diagrams must be created in Microsoft Word - Microsoft Graph;
7) pictures, diagrams and tables should be created in black and white. The use of color and fill is not allowed! All pictures and tables must be named.
8) spaces between words should be not more than one space. The use of extra spaces between words is not desirable.

The articles have to be formatted in the following way:

1. Index (bibliographic information), UDC (Universal Decimal Classification) (left-adjusted, half-bolded).
2. The author’s last name and first name initials in Ukrainian and English (right-adjusted, half-bolded). Do not put a full stop at the end.
3. Article title [in Ukrainian or English (author’s choice), in capital letters, half-bolded, centered]. No full stop at the end.
4. An abstract in Ukrainian and in English (no less than 150 words).
5. The text of the article in any language (justified), which has to contain the following structural elements:
   1) General statement of the problem and its connection to important scientific or practical tasks.
   2) Analysis of the latest research and publications, which initiated the solution to the problem at hand that the author is relying on; a statement of the previously unresolved parts of the problem that the article is dedicated to.
   3) Formulation of the goals (aim, task) of the article.
   4) Presentation of the main research material with a full justification of the scientific results obtained.
   5) The conclusions of the research and the prospects for future developments in the present direction.

7. References (in capital letters, half-bolded, centered), followed by the list of sources, numbered in alphabetical order: first in cyrillic, then in latin. The bibliography is composed according to the standards. Citation in text is done in square brackets: the source number and the page are indicated, for instance, [7, p.19]. The use of footnotes is not allowed. The bibliography should also be provided in transliteration.

The editorial board asks that the applications (the form of the application is included) and the materials (the requirements to publications are included) be submitted electronically to sociologcnu@ukr.net
